Wise Up Marty Machowski 2016-09-14 Every parent and teacher wants to see their children make good choices, grow in wisdom, and learn how to live a God-honoring life. But Christian parents know that teaching good morals isn't enough. Kids (and adults) need gospel power in order to "wise up!" Christians through the centuries have used the book of Proverbs to teach children the godly wisdom needed to navigate their everyday lives. Wise Up, by author and family pastor Marty Machowski, is a two-part discipleship resource geared to help children grown in the true wisdom that is only found in Christ. Wise Up offers two separate discipleship tools. The first product is a family devotional, Wise Up: Ten-Minute Family Devotions in Proverbs, which will help make learning the truths of Proverbs fun and memorable for the whole family. Each compact session features Bible reading, discussion questions, a fun activity, and a song to keep children engaged in making gospel-motivated, good choices. Each wisdom theme in Wise Up is carefully and repeatedly connected to the good news of Jesus's life, death, resurrection, and coming return. Wise Up moves families beyond the practical wisdom of Proverbs to connect the teaching of Solomon to God's larger story of salvation. Also available in this series is the companion twelve-week curriculum, which is designed to connect the teaching of Proverbs to God's larger story of salvation. Children will learn that Solomon's wisdom, life, and failures all point to "something greater than Solomon"—they point to Jesus. The goal of this curriculum is to present the wisdom of Proverbs against the backdrop of the gospel to show children that real wisdom comes only as we depend on Jesus for daily help and forgiveness. Each lesson includes Bible reading, discussion questions, object lessons, a fun activity, and songs for families from the companion Walking with the Wise music CD by Sovereign Grace Music. This curriculum includes three learning levels—preschool and kindergarten (ages 4–6), elementary (ages 6–9), and middle school (ages 10–12).

Our Kids - Our Responsibility, Months 1-6 Jesus's Teachings and Genesis Joe Dodridge 2018-03-13 Have you tried daily devotions with your family and failed? Maybe you got behind one day and then it snowballed from there. Maybe you were looking for something deeper - something more than just a verse and a thought. Why don't you set your family up for success and try this new, creative, weekly family devotional? Our Kids - Our Responsibility is different from other family devotionals. Written by a pastor, husband, and father of two, Our Kids - Our Responsibility contains devotions that go in-depth, ask good discussion questions, and even have a part for parents to talk later by themselves. But, don't be scared that you need to be a Bible scholar. You don't have to know much about the Bible to use this book! This book is intended for everyone - each scripture passage is accompanied by "Notes to Sound Smart" that explain difficult verses. ***** NOTE - This book contains devotionals for Months 1-6. You can also purchase Months 1-3 or Months 4-6 separately. ***** Our Story... A few years ago my family moved to start a new church. Our children were spoiled in our old church - they had children's programs on Sunday morning, Sunday night, and Wednesday night. They had Vacation Bible School once a year, movie nights throughout the year, sports programs, and a ton of other events just for kids. We knew that when we started our church, we probably wouldn't have all of those things. We decided from the beginning that our kids are our responsibility. Our kids need to grow in their faith because of us. So with that conviction in our hearts we set out to be the primary Bible teachers to our kids. And... we failed. We tried family Bible reading. We tried family devotion books. We tried after supper. We tried at bedtime. Basically everything we tried failed because we weren't really committed and we gave up too easily. So, that's where this book came from. I figured that there are probably plenty of families like us. Families who know they need to do something, but keep failing. I wanted to create a resource that was structured and taught the Bible, but also had some discussion questions. I wanted to create a resource that people could read with children even if the adult doesn't really know much about the Bible to begin with. I wanted to create a resource that gives parents something to talk about too - after the kids go to bed. I wanted a resource for the whole family. I have written a book like what my family did. Some of these are the questions we asked, the passages we read, and the ideas that challenged our faith. I hope that you will use it with your family. Your kids - your responsibility. ***** About Each Devotion... Each weekly Bible study is broken into six parts - Start, Read, Discuss, Memorize, Pray, and Later for Parents. START introduces the Bible passage as if neither you nor your kids know anything about what you're going to read. READ is the Bible passage with a little bit of help. Most passages are followed by a box called "Notes to Sound Smart." If there is something in the passage that is confusing or requires further explanation, you can find help here. DISCUSS is where family bonding takes place. If this book was an 80s family sitcom, then this section is where the sappy music would start to play. MEMORIZE pulls out one key part of the Bible passage that would be great to memorize. PRAY gives you bullet points for things you might want to pray for as a family. It also reminds you to ask your family for prayer requests - things that you want to pray for together. LATER FOR PARENTS is an opportunity for adults to further discuss today's Bible study. ***** Will you give weekly family devotions a try? I think this resource can help you as you take on your kids as your responsibility.

Weekly Family Devotions Jason Carr 2013-01-01
Evaluating the Impact of Family Devotions Upon Selected Families from Zomi Christian

Community of Tulsa Nang Khen Khup 2007

"Scope and method study. The purpose of this project was to impact each participant's family devotional life and to show parents with a variety of formats for guiding family devotions. The questions raised by this project are the following: (1) what is the impact of "Family Devotions" on each selected family from the Zomi Community?, (2) what changes were indicated in attitude, knowledge, and behavior?, and (3) what are the responses of the families to the family time with God after guiding their families into regular family devotions for a period of time? The need for this project was indicated by a recognition that parents at Zomi Christian Fellowship were not taking an active role in the spiritual nurturing of children in the home. The problem was identified as a lack of understanding on the part of parents of the importance of having family devotions and spiritual leadership. There was also a lack of motivation to implement what they knew about the leadership role at home, and the uncomfortable feelings in guiding family devotions. These needs were met by offering guidance of family devotions, which address both teachings on the importance of family devotions and various method or formats for leading family worship in more effective ways. The teachings included the biblical, theological, and historical teachings of the importance and practices of family devotions. Finding and conclusions. To accomplish this research, the researcher selected eight families who were representative samples from the whole Zomi Christian Fellowship families. The researcher visited and guided family devotions with these eight families and gave teachings and suggested methods to each family. It took six weeks to complete working with all families because of the difficulty of finding free time together as a whole to have family devotions. During the final visits, the researcher showed a simple format for guiding family devotions by leading each family.

Most parents learned that family devotions should be short (maximum 20 minutes), effective, valuable, and enjoyable for the whole family. Father, mother, and mature children must in turn lead and prepare ahead of time for the devotions. It was recommended that guiding family devotions be offered to other Zomi families in Tulsa. In addition, these teachings and guidance helped the participants increase their knowledge, and affected their behavior and attitude toward family devotions in a positive way"--Abstract.

Partnering with Parents in Youth Ministry

Jim Burns 2011-08-29 The most powerful force in a young person's life is his or her family. The importance of this is pointed out in the writing of the Torah in Deuteronomy 6:4-9, where believers are mandated to pass their family legacies to the next generations. The newest trend in youth ministry today is a very healthy move toward family-based ministry, a mind-set that helps the church act as a support system, while placing discipleship and training back into the hands of family. Partnering with Parents in Youth Ministry will help youth workers understand their unique role in helping families succeed and will give an overview strategy of family-based youth ministry, as well as practical ideas on implementing this awesome ministry in your church.

Machowski makes it easy for parents and caregivers to stay on the life-giving course of sharing the gospel with their families. God knew that our lives wouldn't always measure up to His ideals, yet He made provision for us. Psalm 68:6 tells us that it is God who sets the solitary into families. God still has a plan for you and your family, a plan that's good and causes you to win. The Perfect Blend Devotional uses the Word of God to encourage you, enlighten you, and motivate you. Failure doesn't have to be your final outcome; you can make your second time around sweeter. Your family can be the perfect blend!
