Poetry by Heart Andrew Motion 2014-10-02 Poetry by Heart - based on the hugely successful nationwide schools competition, 200 magical poems to learn by heart 'The poems we learn stay with us for the rest of our lives. They become personal and invaluable, and what's more they are free gifts - there for the taking' Simon Armitage

Two years ago former Poet Laureate Andrew Motion had the idea of setting up Poetry by Heart - a nationwide annual competition for secondary schools which asked contestants to learn two or three poems and be judged on their recitations, first at school level, then regional, then in a national final held at London's National Portrait Gallery. It's proved a huge success, with hundreds of schools participating in the first year, and numbers up by 20% in the second. Coinciding with the start of the third year of competition, and published on National Poetry Day whose theme coincidentally in 2014 is Recitation, this Poetry by Heart anthology brings together the pool of poems - 200 altogether - from which contestants make their choices. Specially picked by Motion and his three co-editors, these poems make up a treasure house - of almost-unknown poems and familiar poems from the mainstream; love poems and war poems; funny poems and heartbroken poems; poems that recreate the world we know and poems written on the dark side of the moon. And all chosen with a view to their being recited out loud. From William Wordsworth to Wilfred Owen, Emily Brontë to Elizabeth Bishop this wonderfully enjoyable anthology will be enjoyed by all ages and includes the best poets from the past to the present day. In a groundbreaking feature, the book includes QR codes which allow readers to use their mobile phones to listen to recordings of the poems - many of them specially recorded by the poets themselves. Sir Andrew Motion was Poet Laureate from 1999 till 2009, and is Professor of Creative Writing at Royal Holloway College, London. Jean Sprackland'sTilt won the Costa Poetry award in 2008. She is a Reader in Poetry at Manchester Metropolitan University. Julie Blake is co-Founder and Director of The Full English, an organization based in Bristol which provides

Poems That Rhyme from My Heart David Mondragon

2019-10-25 This book is a collection of inspirational, and sometimes personal poems that one can relate partly, almost totally, or totally, which is one of the goals I have for the book. The other goal which I hope is easily achieved by the reader is that it can relax them, entertain them and inspire them all at the same time. Unlike a novel, each poem is like a story in itself. I feel that with many of these poems the message can be very impacting and easy to remember since each one rhymes and most aren't too long. Enjoy.

About the Book Today, with so many forms and styles of modern poetry, it is refreshing sometimes to read the simple rhymes that one can understand without some kind of degree in reading poetry.

The poems between the covers of this book come from the very heart of the writer and describes so many feelings she has felt through the many years of her life. Some are sad and some are hopeful and there are others that tell her story in rhyme that is simple and are written for ordinary people who often feel as she feels. Maybe in some of the poems they can find a part of themselves or relive some memories they have long forgotten but would like to revisit. May these words bring some joy to others and that is one reason the author has published this book.

Tazmin Foster had the fame and the money that she had always dreamed of, but most importantly she had her family and friends that she loved dearly. Running her own record label was challenging, but she thrived under pressure and wouldn't have traded her life for anything in the world. When it came to her romantic life, Tazmin hadn't date much, because all the men she had dated all turned out to be trying to use her to further their career. Poems from the Heart of a Woman Glenda Faye Bagley 2012-10 My mother, Lovella Bagley had ten children. She taught her family about Jesus and the biblical principles of His word. Her dream was to write a book about her husband and all her children. She was married to Lee Earnest Bagley, Sr. for sixty-five years; he went home to be with the Lord on December 12, 2009. My father had a good sense of humor and an extraordinary personality. He provided for his family by working at an apartment complex as a Supervisor of Plumbing- in Lubbock, Texas. In my upcoming book, "Why am I Here?" I will talk about specifics in our family's life. Our mother was diagnosed with Alzheimer's at the age of seventy-five and I watched her sad face as the doctor gave her the news. I watched her go from a vibrant woman to being in a wheelchair. She was determined to finish writing her poetry in her journal because she was quickly losing her memory. Her impeding illness did not discourage her even though she continued to struggle to remember names, events and wording. Every night she wrote poems and short stories in her journal that she kept in a silver briefcase. Some years passed and my siblings and I became her caregivers. Throughout the years, I thought about that silver briefcase as our family had relocated to Dallas, Texas. My brother Rodney decided to take a trip to Lubbock, Texas to visit relatives. During his visit, Rodney went to his storage to get furniture and other items to take back to Dallas. As he walked through the storage he looked next to a wall and there laid the silver briefcase that held my mother's poems. I was so excited; I knew there has to be a reason for us finding the silver briefcase. In my book,

Words in Rhythm David Stewart Handelman

2012-07-18 The time that I have spent traveling in the many journeys of my life, I find myself listening to sweet music. I also find myself seeking, not only words of wisdom that I can translate, but I hear music that remind me of life past and the many hopes for the future. In order to fully appreciate what any author is trying to articulate, one must first put themselves into the poem or story to fully understand what they are trying to write or say. Poetry is based upon the authors own interpretation of the subject that they are writing about. True poetry is taken from the depth of ones own soul and their feelings at the time that they put the quill to the parchment.

Thinking Out Loud Arlene Baptiste 2009-10-01 This book is a collection of thoughtful rhymes and inspirational poems I have written over the years. It is my belief that everyone has a talent which they should use to glorify God and as a teenager I discovered writing poetry happened to be one of mine and an avenue for self expression. In this book, I have drawn on different themes and aspects of life and human emotions which I have taken from observations and from my own thoughts, feelings and experiences as a Christian young woman. You may agree or even find you identify with some of the thoughts and sentiments expressed, but my underlying message to my readers is to be encouraged and reminded that God is always there for you and He never sleeps. God has a good plan for each and every one of us no matter what we have gone through or what we are currently experiencing in life, so never give up on your hopes, your prayers and dreams. For I know the plans I have for you, declares the LORD, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. Jeremiah 29:11

Some of my poems are based on actual experiences, while others are simply created from something I've heard or perhaps seen. I painstakingly create my poetry with true rhymes, consistent rhyming conventions, uniform accents, and strict syllabic conventions. Some poems are long and some are short, but all of my poems have been crafted with tender loving care.

For Children and the Young at Heart: Stories, Songs, Poems, and Rhymes Deborah Battle 2017-11-01 These original songs, short stories, and nursery rhymes are truly for the young at heart. This book is written from actual experiences and ideally born from within my heart. Oral short stories are methods universally used to speak about truths, family matters, and world happenings. Young and old alike enjoyed oral stories before television became so popular. Oral short stories when read to classroom students increase learning and imagination and widen the minds of all who partake in its jewels. Holiday poems as well as poems for special occasions create expressive ways for children to use language. A springboard of stories inside are about life and life's ups and downs, Deborah's Songs, Short Stories, and Nursery Rhymes is an amazing compilation, especially for parents, teachers, children, and dreamers everywhere.

From the Core of My Heart (Rhymes in Humanity) Saleem 2019-09-17 Human beings ought to be humble and humane. Love and sympathy should exude from their behavior. Selflessness and altruism should deck their personalities. They should adhere to honesty even if it has perilous outcomes. They should abide by the truth even if it is against their interests. Kindness should be their hallmark and should not only extend to their own fraternity but to animals and plants too. Forgiveness should be their motto and compassion should be their second nature. Their countenance should be pleasant and their mannerisms gracious. Sincerity should be writ large in all their undertakings. Their lives should be governed by self-discipline. People should be able to depend on them when times are bleak. Sharing their blessings should come naturally to them. They must be just even to their enemies. Contentment should be their permanent companion. Their strong connection with God should continue to give them the courage to bear persecution for the sake of righteousness. If they can live and die for others they would be humans par excellence. If these "Rhymes in Humanity" can in any way help people to be high achievers as human beings, it would be a small service from someone who is also striving in this cause in spite of all his failings.

Rhythms and Rhymes of the Heart 2002-2004 Eileen Loveman 2005-05-01 Rhythm and Rhymes of the Heart 2002-2004 is a love story told by poetry, prose and essay. Anxious to begin her writing career, in August 2002 Eileen Loveman joined a writers website entitled Writers on the Loose. She quickly became one of the sites most prolific writers, sharing her day-to-day experiences by telling them through the eyes of different characters in various series. While working full time as a pastoral business manager, she wove her struggles with divorce, sickness, poverty, death and rebirth throughout her columns and was extremely popular. Time after time her readers responded in kind, saying she was must have been asitting in their kitchen.a Coming full circle when she met and married her husband, Stephen Natarelli, another writer posting on the site, her fans asked her to put it all in book form. Also spawned from this endeavor were The George
